Federal Officers Sympathize in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS Nov 10—An enthusiastic Cuban meeting was held here yesterday. The Surveyor of the port and other prominent Federal officers participated. Resolutions were adopted condemning the barbarities of the Spaniards and calling on the Federal Government to recognize the Cuban as belligerent, and requiring an indemnity and apology for the recent outrages on American citizens.

Tammany Investigating Election Frauds.

NEW YORK Nov 10—The Tammany Hall Committee sat this evening again to investigate the late alleged election frauds. Simon Stein testified that he [illegible] and three men in the [illegible] a rearranging [illegible]. He saw one of the men [illegible] next day. It [illegible] them and the inspectors refused his [illegible]. A number of witnesses testified to inspectors [illegible] and changing tickets, also that the inspectors [illegible] had intimidated naturalized citizens. Two [illegible] swore that in one district [illegible] tickets for [illegible] Kelly and [illegible] James Lynn. They subsequently saw the returns altered at the precincts to [illegible] for Kelly. Other evidence was taken bearing very hard on Police Commissioner Charlick and [illegible] Commissioner John S Davenport.

Railway Collision—Passengers Killed.

[illegible] N Y Nov 11—In a collision on the New York and Oswego Midland Railroad near Hancock New York this afternoon the engineer fireman and a lady passenger are reported killed.

A Woman at the Bottom of It.

NEW YORK Nov 10—The bank defalcation referred to in a previous dispatch proves to be on Security Bank No 108 Broadway. Henry D Sorenus cashier has not been seen since a week ago. He appropriated $20 000 and it is alleged that he has eloped with a woman leaving a wife and several children in Brooklyn.

Failure of an Extensive Tea Firm.

New York Nov 10—The tea firm that failed to-day was [illegible] & Co. [illegible] generally aggregate $1 000 000 per annum.

Rail[illegible] Captured.

OMAHA Nov 10—A dispatch received this morning from Kansas states that the two men who committed the robbery on the Rock Island Railroad have been captured and are in jail at Wellington Kansas.

Mormons from Europe.

About six hundred Mormons principally English Welsh and Scotch, passed through this city bound west this morning.

Yellow Fever.

MEMPHIS Nov 10—Business is rapidly reviving. The weather is warm. Two deaths from yellow fever to-day and five new cases reported.

Account of the Execution of the Virginius Prisoners.

KEY WEST Fla Nov 10—A letter from Havana, dated Nov 7th has the following account of the execution of the Virginius prisoners at Santiago de Cuba: "Four prisoners were shot at a place made famous by previous executions and in the usual manner—kneeling. All marched to the spot with firmness. Rambeita and Ryan showed marked courage although the former was slightly affected toward the last. Two others quite broke down before they were blindfolded, but bore up to the last and never flinched for a moment. They died without fear or regret. Rambeita and Ryan were killed at the first discharge.

Loss of the Ismalia.

NEW YORK Nov 11—The loss of the steamer Ismalia is fully credited at the Ship News Exchange. She had [illegible] when last seen on the [illegible] of October off the coast of Nova Scotia.

CHICAGO Nov 11—The Tribune's Philadelphia correspondent telegraphs: Col T Scott informed [illegible] that the [illegible] of the Texas [illegible] allowed to go to protest, and that John Welsh will arrange an extension with holders. Col Scott says the failure of the Company for virtually is a failure, is mainly attributable to the present scarcity of money in Europe and at home and their consequent inability to dispose of their bonds and thus meet obligations. He is of opinion that their difficulties will shortly be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Pacific Mail Steamship Matters.

An answer has been filed by President Allen in the case of Aaron Freeman against him and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. A general denial is made to all [illegible] in office &c. Among other things it is averred that during the year 1873 the Pacific Mail Steamship Co owned a certain amount of stock in the Panama Railroad Company but that the company disposed of it during the same year. The friends of Stockwell say that when he became President of the company it had 27,000 shares of Panama stock. He often said it was desirable to obtain more funds and Stockwell sold 15,000 shares of stock at $100. The remaining 12,000 shares were hypothecated or loaned for the account of the company. The proceeds of all these operations were used by the company in the [illegible]. It is alleged that these securities are largely enhanced in value so that the company actually profited to the extent of $1 000 000 by the operations of its President after hypothecation of 12 000 shares. Stock began to fall and the securities of the company were pledged to secure those with whom transactions had been made. These securities were afterwards purchased by Stockwell and in payment thereof he gave the mortgages and notes of the Howe Sewing Machine Company. This left Stockwell to pay the company a debt of $1,200 000 with interest. These suits were brought after a careful examination by the directors, who agreed to the adjournment of the claims on Stockwell's payment to the company of $10 000 000 capital stock worth now about $250 000.

A feature of the recent election in Illinois was that in 29 counties where there were candidates for County Superintendents of Schools 11 women were elected.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Virginius Execution.

WASHINGTON, Nov 10.—The execution at Havana is condemned in official circles as brutal and when all the facts attending it shall become known should it appear that international law has been violated immediate measures will be taken to maintain the dignity of this Government but the Secretary of [illegible] has an idea that the Spanish Government will not be slow to make due reparation as far as may be in its power, judging from the friendly disposition evinced toward the United States and the expressed desire to cultivate more intimate relations [illegible].

The Secretary of State is reported as saying to-day during an interview with reference to the reported execution of Santa Rosa, that he had not been sufficiently advised of it, but that Santa Rosa had given him a great deal of trouble and that he was once before condemned to death as a pirate. After consuming a ream of paper and sending and receiving numberless dispatches this Government secured his release.

NEW YORK Nov 11—A Washington correspondent had an interview with Secretary Fish regarding the shooting of the passengers of the Virginius. The Secretary said it was a cold blooded murder that no one of sound judgment or tact [illegible] apologize for it but the Cubans themselves. They have had presumed patriots remaining loose in New York and Washington who had they been made of stern metal would have been fighting the battles on the island, instead of manufacturing useless and pseudo enthusiasm in those cities. No one doubts that Ryan and his confreres were in the commission of Cubans. If an American is willing to enter into the service of foreign powers he does so at his own risk and has no right at every turn which proves inimical to his own interest or life to ask the intervention of our Government. He has voluntarily left to battle for another power. It would have been much more creditable to the Cuban authorities to have kept their officers home doing service where it was valuable. The Secretary added that he sympathized with the Cubans but could not render aid in any manner which will conflict with the amity of the two nations. Further he wanted better material from Cuba than has been sent before he could hope to hear of them ultimately achieving their independence. In the present juncture of affairs he said the State Department would use its utmost diligence to be advised at the earliest practicable moment. After we have full facts we will act. This Government cannot now act because it does not have any basis upon which to proceed firmly and intelligently. It may be a week before the news is presented in official shape.

A Very Important Question.

WASHINGTON Nov 10. The Supreme Court of the United States was to-day engaged in hearing the case of the Union Pacific railroad v. Ferry Stone Treasurer of Lincoln county Nebraska involving the question whether the property of the road [illegible] to be taxed by States through which the road passes and whether it is competent for the Company to be taxed for unorganized territory adjacent under the laws of the State.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 11—The Board of Supervisors last night passed an order granting twenty acres of Central Basin in Mission Bay to H F Booth & Co, for the purposes of a ship yard. Mr Story gave notice of a motion to reconsider the vote by which the order was passed.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 11—A woman known as Annie was found dead in her room in a house on Pacific street to day. She lay on her face on the floor and from marks of violence on her neck the suspicion of foul play is [illegible].

The funeral of the little son of John Cahill of this city who was accidentally shot and killed a few days since at Rocklin took place to-day and was largely attended.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 11—The General Convention of the Peoples Protective Alliance met at 2 P M to-day and after considerable debate effected an organization by electing I N Ward President and Wm McCarty Secretary. A Committee of ten on Platform and Resolutions were appointed after long debate and after the reading of a large series of resolutions offered by Gen Winn, the same Committee was charged with the duty of drawing up an address to the people of the United States on the subject of Chinese in this country, and the proper means for stopping their influx. This committee is to report on or before next Thursday. The Convention then adjourned till this evening.

The name of the woman found dead to day in a house on Pacific street, was Annie Callahan. She was a woman of intemperate habits and it is believed she came to her death from excessive use of liquor.

The civil suits against Capt Clarke of the Sunrise by sailors to recover damages are pending in the County Court. The defense introduced a large number of sea captains this afternoon who swore that the act of "tricing" sailors up by the wrists to the rigging of vessels and keeping them from eight to 48 hours is the usual mode of punishment in the American marine. The cases are being tried before a jury.

Interior California.

SAN DIEGO Nov 11—To day's Union publishes the following information. Authentic advices from New York have been received, to the effect that the Board of Directors of the Texas & Pacific Railroad met on the 29th of October and levied an assessment of 20 per cent on the capital stock of the company. Secretary Hart gives notice that this assessment must be paid on or before the 29th of the present month (November), at the office of the company in New York.

The San Bernardino Argus contains the following: "John I Gould for a long time connected with us in the Argus office has returned to San Diego. He proposes to start a first class evening paper in that place."

SACRAMENTO, Nov 11,—A man named John McHanny was terribly beaten in a drunken row this morning in a low groggery on Fifth street. Four women, all habitual drunkards and of vile character who were found in the house, were arrested. The man was found lying in the back yard deluged in blood, and cut badly about the head and face.

STOCKTON, Nov 11—A fire occurred at Lathrop this afternoon in McCrelish's restaurant. The building and contents are a total loss. McCrelish saved nothing. Loss estimated at about $1,500; insurance not ascertained.

The wheat market is flat at $2 15 with very little doing.

At the quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held to-night, reports of officers were received and committees appointed as follows: One to confer with Senator Casserly of the U S Senate Committee on transportation and on the subject of fares and freights another to consult with the legislative delegation on the subject of a city water front and another to make nominations of officers for the Chamber to be voted for next January.

The Anti Chinese Convention met at 7 30. The Committee on Resolutions reported progress, and said it would make a final report on Thursday. Speeches were made by M B Starr, James Laidley and others.

SAN JOSE, Nov 11—Sebastian Flores of this place was to day convicted at Oakland of manslaughter, for killing Francisco Garcia near Warm Springs a few weeks ago, in a quarrel about the trial of Garcia for murder, he being cleared of the crime—Flores being the principal witness.

The number of prisoners at the county jail is 42.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE Nov 11—At a meeting of the directors of the Zion Co-operative Mercantile Institution Wm Jennings was elected Vice President, vice Theodore McKean resigned and Wm H Hooper, Superintendent vice H B Clawson, [illegible].

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, Nov 8,—The steamship California arrived here at 6 P M from Sitka and way ports. She confirms the news of the recent discovery of rich gold fields in the Cassiar country. She brought down twelve miners and $15 000 in dust. The excitement is intense. One party took out $897 in eight hours rocking. The parties who came down on the California intend returning early in the spring. The miners wintering on the Stikeen have bought up all the provisions so that a large supply will be required in the spring.

The weather here for the past four days has been a succession of heavy storms.

MEXICO.

MATAMORAS Nov 10.—There is great [illegible] throughout Mexico [illegible] the adoption of the amendments and additional articles of the National Constitution establishing separation of church and state. An extensive plot for [illegible] compromised by revelations.

WEST INDIES.

SAN DOMINGO Nov 10—General Luperon has been recalled to the command of the Insurgent force. He will make a supreme effort to triumph or be annihilated.

SIGN OF DEATH.—Some time ago the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of $4000 for some simple and positive sign of death which any non professional person could understand and apply. Such a test suggested in Virchow's Archiv is considered very satisfactory by the British medical press. It consists in tying a string firmly round the finger of the supposed corpse. If the blood circulates in the least—in which event death has not taken place—the whole finger will swell and turn a bluish red. It is conceived that such a test would be very useful in cases of drowning and asphyxia. It may be legitimate to cite a case which occurred not long ago at Brussels. A drunken man fell into a canal and remained so long immersed that very little hope was entertained of his recovery. He was to all appearance a corpse. Dr Jeaux physician to the police to whom application is made in such cases did not share the conviction of the bystanders, and having used the most energetic means of resuscitation for three hours ended by applying a hot iron to the patient who instantly moved slightly. The former measures were directed to and the supposed corpse stood up in less than half an hour [illegible] but none the worse for his accident.

A MISSING STEAMER.—The following is from New York under date of Nov 6th: Nothing has been heard from the Anchor Line steamer Ismalia. The probability is that she is lost with all on board. There is a possibility that she has made the western Islands after being disabled. The Graphic this morning says that the Ismalia was overloaded and that her draft was 22 feet or two feet beyond the line of safety.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS

Mrs [illegible] late of the Missouri Democrat [illegible] and several reporters retire.

NEW YORK Nov 6—Lotta [illegible] the actress, is reported to have fled to Montclair N J to day. She has for some time past been suffering from consumption.

NEW YORK Nov [illegible]—[illegible] reported by Mr [illegible] of San Francisco arrived yesterday in the steamer Ocean from [illegible], [illegible] in good health and condition.

LONDON, Nov 3—At a meeting of the National Laborers Union to-night it was stated that the Government of New Zealand would give free passage to all laborers who wish to emigrate to that colony [illegible].

NEW YORK Nov 6—Police Commissioner [illegible] many Society to day on the charge of having [illegible] with the returns at headquarters from the Eighteenth Assembly District and turning traitor to Tammany.

LINCOLN Neb Oct 30—Hon I Parker member of the Nebraska Legislature who as Buffalo [illegible] was a member of Ned Buntline's Indian combination returned home on yesterday disgusted with a showman's life and ready to serve his constituency at the Capital. The drunkenness of Buntline busted up the company.

WILLIAMSPORT (Pa) Nov 6—At 4 P M an attempt was made to hang H Wade. The drop was knocked out, but the rope was too long and he touched the ground with his feet. The rope was shortened for another trial. Wade was very profane, and told the Sheriff to hurry up as he had an appointment to meet in hell with the devil at 2 o'clock. He said that the only thing that troubled him is whether people he murdered are in heaven or hell.

OTTAWA (Ont) Nov 6—Considerable talking is manifested here to day on discovery that the retiring Ministry on the very eve of retirement in disgrace, had made extraordinary free use of public patronage creating a number of Judges besides filling two Governorships, one of the latter being that for New Brunswick is to be filled by Mr Tilley late Minister of Finance. The House met to day and the new Premier not having completed his Cabinet was adjourned till to morrow.

NEW YORK Oct 6—Rodigan a prominent German politician died a few days ago leaving real estate valued at about $1 000 000 and $500,000 in money. When his will was opened his three sons, with seven children of a deceased daughter who considered themselves his only heirs, were astonished to find that shortly before his death their father had married his servant Madelina Schneger aged 49. He left her his fine residence and one third of his income and real estate. Suit was brought to day at the instance of his family contesting the will, alleging that their father was of unsound mind when he signed it.

GREAT INUNDATION AT ST PETERSBURG.—A New York dispatch of Nov [illegible]th contains the following:

Foreign papers received contain some particulars of the inundation at St Petersburg by the overflowing of the Neva, Oct 11th. The weather had been unusually warm during the day. At sunset it became evident that a storm was approaching and toward 7 P M it blew a hurricane. The water rose rapidly and the lower parts of the town were completely flooded. By 2 A M the water was almost ten feet above the usual height so that it flowed into many streets which had not been submerged since the great inundation of 1824. Some of the thoroughfares were literally converted into rivers. Trees in public gardens were broken or uprooted ships in the rivers were torn from their anchors and thrown against the floating bridges, all of which were thereby more or less damaged. The telegraph communication was suspended posts thrown down and the wires torn away. At Ekaterinoff [illegible], several sailing ships were floated into the streets. Wooden pavements were destroyed, fences were carried away, chimneys thrown down and roofs torn off. The poor people were panic stricken, and many were obliged to abandon the little property they possessed being only too glad to save their lives. Some were taken off in boats. The Zoological Gardens were completely under water and the proprietors had great difficulty in saving the animals. The effects of the storm were felt for many miles around St Petersburg. There were no less than four fires and the Police Master was at his wits end as one disaster after another was reported. Soon after 4 o'clock the wind veered to the north and the current being no longer impeded the water fell as rapidly as it rose. The loss of property was immense but it is believed in St Petersburg that no lives were lost.

ONE OF THE $20,000 [illegible].—True Blue the winner of the four mile heat race, Saturday left Baltimore for San Francisco last night in a special stock palace car by the Northern Central railroad. True Blue's rider Barbee, with Chamberlin's agent and his colored man Jim, accompanied the horse in his sumptuous car. The outside of the car was painted a bright red. Upon either side a brilliantly displayed placard was posted reading as follows: "Please do not detain me. Business of importance with my friends Thad Stevens and Joe Daniels requires my [illegible]. Yours truly, True Blue." Upon expressing a desire to inspect the interior of the car and to interview the champion, permission was cheerfully accorded us by Mr Chamberlin. The rear end of the car which had been set apart for the valuable steed was lined all around with thick mattresses as well as the [illegible]. [illegible] were placed in the side to secure proper ventilation. The front part of the car was divided into two separate compartments for two of True Blue's stable companions [illegible]. The middle of the car was [illegible] for the accommodation of attendants and for the storage of temporary supplies of provender. It is expected that the horses will reach San Francisco in about eight days. This will allow True Blue only a week in which to recover from the effects of his long trip by rail before contending again with Thad Stevens and Joe Daniels in the $20000 race which will take place Nov 14th. The result of this enterprise is watched with considerable interest by turf men in all parts of the country. Should True Blue win the race he will probably never start again.—Baltimore [illegible] Oct 25th.

SHOCKING SUICIDE.—The San Francisco Bulletin commenting on a case of this kind which occurred in that city on the 4th inst [illegible]:

The man who [illegible] takes his life in his hand. The public are generous toward the father, brother or friend who kills him. [illegible] He is looked upon as a man who has all his life been a [illegible] and who has suddenly become [illegible].

But the permission as killing has gone to the very [illegible]. [illegible] went to the gallows for killing a man who had abused his sister. [illegible] When every murder may [illegible] wrongs and who takes the place of law and order [illegible] killing [illegible]. One wrong [illegible] rights [illegible] because under the most liberal construction [illegible] a different character. Murder is a bad business [illegible] whirlwind of frenzy. There is little sympathy left when very many [illegible] justify him in taking the life of another.

Pistori who has been starring in England, minutely advertises on her programme the various toilets she wears in the play down to the very buttons.

THE ELECTIONS OF NOVEMBER 4TH

From our San Francisco exchanges we take the annexed:

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON Nov 5—Nearly all the towns in the State are now heard from. The total vote for Washburn (Rep) for Governor is 7[illegible]; for Gaston Dem [illegible]. The Democrats made large gains even for an off year and hence they are jubilant. The Democrats elected eleven Senators and sixty members of the House. [illegible] is elected to Congress. Of forty Senators the Republicans elected twenty six. In the Second Middlesex District General N P Banks is elected Senator over the regular Republican candidate by a handsome plurality. The House will probably be three fourths Republican. In the Senate two to one are opposed to the Prohibitory Liquor law. Anti Prohibition was a tower of strength to the Democrats and their candidate Gaston received a heavy vote in several of the large cities and towns from the opponents of Prohibition.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK Nov 5—The election returns are not yet complete. The Democratic majority in this city will not exceed 30 000. The Republicans elected five Assemblymen and one Senator. Dispatches are being continually received from Republican and Democratic General Committees from various towns in the interior, but for three days at least the Democratic majority in the State will not be known. The Democrats put it at 15 000 and the Republicans at 10,000. The Commercial Advertiser (Rep) concedes the election of the Democratic State ticket by 10,000 majority. The election of S S Cox to Congress is conceded. Returns from Brooklyn indicate that the Democratic candidate for Mayor is elected. Poughkeepsie gives a Democratic majority of 800—a gain of [illegible] over last year. The city has given overwhelming majority against the amendment for appointment of the judiciary and a still larger vote in favor of the annexation of Westchester county.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE Nov 5—The aggregate Democratic majority will be about 10 000 for the State, and may run up to 20 000. The Legislature will probably stand: In the House of Delegates [illegible] Democrats and 18 Republicans; in the Senate 22 Democrats and 1 Republican.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Nov 5. Returns thus far indicate the election of the Democratic State ticket by 18,000 majority.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND (Va) Nov 5.—The returns from the State only confirm last night's dispatches, with very few exceptions. The Conservative gain has been immense. Leading Republicans concede Kemper's majority in the State to be [illegible].

MINNESOTA.

ST PAUL, Nov 5.—The indications all point to the election of the entire Republican State ticket by a handsome majority. Davis, Republican, for Governor is running ahead of his ticket. There has been a great deal of scratching. Returns from this city will not be in until a very late hour on account of scratched ballots. There will be a considerable change in the Legislature.

New York, Nov 5.—Governor elect C K Davis of Minnesota telegraphs from St Paul that his majority is estimated at about 8 000 to 10 000. There is probably a Republican majority on the State ticket.

NEW JERSEY.

NEWARK, Nov 5.—Both Senate and House of New Jersey will be Republican, the former by a majority of seven and the latter of four. The Republican majority in the House last year was thirty-five.

THE LATEST.

KANSAS CITY Nov 6—Complete returns from Kansas have not yet been received. Nothing official has been received to indicate that the Grangers have elected their ticket. The election will not change the complexion of the Legislature.

CHICAGO, Nov 6—More complete returns from our city election give the total vote at 47,414. Colvin received 10,[illegible] majority for Mayor and O'Hara 10,208 majority for City Treasurer.

The result in Wisconsin is the election of W R Taylor, a Democrat and a Granger over Washburn, by over 5 000 majority.

TRENTON, N J, Nov 6—Full returns of the election from the State show that the next Legislature will stand: Senate—Republicans 14 Democrats [illegible]; Assembly—Republicans 31 Democrats 28. Last year the Senate stood Democrats, 15 Republicans 15 Independent, 1.

NEW YORK Nov 6—The only question about the State ticket is the Democratic majority. The Times says it is slight and the World claims 15 000.

BALTIMORE Nov [illegible]—The Democrats elect their entire ticket by from 13 000 to 15 000 majority.

JACKSON Miss Nov 5.—It is generally believed that Ames has carried the State by 15 000 majority.

KANSAS CITY Mo Nov 5—The returns from Kansas indicate a Democratic victory in that State with a majority in the Legislature.

THE NEW YORK HERALD ON THE ELECTION.

NEW YORK Nov 5—The Herald editorially discussing the late elections and their lessons, says the people are dissatisfied with the party which has been in power for 13 years, and has yet three years of an unexpired Presidential term to fill. They distrust the object of Republicans; they condemn its present action; they have again and again honored the party and expressed their confidence in its integrity in the face of serious suspicions; they were disposed to believe it when it avowed itself the champion of reform and punished criminals, but when they found it ignoring or justifying the corruption of its own friends they began to distrust its sincerity. The Republicans have been betrayed into many mistakes not because it was [illegible] but because it countenanced the Credit Mobilier infamy and the [illegible] of back pay because they were Republicans. For these acts honest men of the Republican party have remained at home and refused to vote or have cast their ballots for opponents of the organization. This is the true meaning of the sudden check. It will commit a fatal error if it neglects to profit by this lesson. There may be time yet to redeem [illegible] of the past and to effect a positive reform.

THE LATEST YARN ABOUT JAY GOULD.—New York Nov 6: The Erie Railroad Company has issued a circular dated October [illegible] charging [illegible] with conspiracy with clerks to obtain the accounts of the Company for publication. The clerks have confessed. It is understood that Jay Gould is the person referred to and that the New York Times has used the accounts from time to time to injure the Company at the instigation of Jay Gould. It distracts attention from itself by charging the Tribune to be in the interest of Jay Gould. The antagonism of the Times to the Erie Railroad accounts for the frequent attacks on the World on the subject. Mr Barlow counsel of the Erie is supposed to instigate these articles, which excite great [illegible] here.

TWO ANECDOTES.—There are two anecdotes of Landseer which I have not seen in print. In one [illegible] the logs [illegible] paper. Next day [illegible] in all [illegible] the rivers [illegible] he was [illegible] his business [illegible] who was taking notes [illegible] she saw [illegible] to get rid of their dogs. Another time he went to Portugal and the King sent for him to express his admiration. "Ah Sir Edwin" said the King "I am so glad to see you. I'm so fond of beasts."

LETTER FROM OLYMPIA

OLYMPIA Nov 4, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Arriving in this busy little city this afternoon from a visit to Seattle I found upon calling at the editorial office of my friend Murphy of the Standard a letter in the OREGONIAN signed J Wilbur the general tone and temper of which so pleases me that I cannot forbear addressing a reply to the writer through your columns. I do this the more readily as I find the OREGONIAN generally more willing to discuss or allow discussion, upon both sides of a question than many other papers that I could name.

But while I so much admire the wise suggestions of Mr Wilbur, whose frankness in signing his own name to his production is worthy of commendation I also want to thank him for his honesty in making accusations against me in such a way that I may meet them squarely. The gentleman says that he has been much surprised and chagrined at the course taken by the editress of the New Northwest in connection with our political affairs. Now, this "friend of woman's rights" may be directly cured of all surprise and chagrin, except at his own lack of intuition, if he will please, at once, to divest himself of the hallucination that I really care one iota for politics, except as an advocate of the best means to obtain the key to woman's heritage, which is yet denied to her by her brother man. No, friend Wilbur I have not "been deceived," neither have I looked upon silver and gold and thus brought trouble in the camp of Israel. The imputation that I would do such a thing strongly [illegible] that this is the only recognized way that you men have of managing politics. My line of political action is thus, and I hope I may be able to state it so plainly that the voter who runs may understand. If one man whom men—not women—place before the public as a candidate for office is in favor of the great principle of equality before the law and another man, who is the opposite of this, is running upon another ticket it is my consistent duty as a woman suffragist (and is your duty also, if you mean what you say, and I take it for granted that you do) to use whatever influence I may have or can honorably bring to bear, to defeat the candidate who is opposed to my measure. Any other line of action is opposed to principle or common sense. This, sir, is why I have "troubled your camp." In electing Mr Nesmith you deliberately placed a sworn foe to the woman's rights principles which you have advocated from your youth in an official position where he could do your principles and mine incalculable damage. Now, which has acted from "principle" you or I? I am often impelled to pray "May heaven save me from my friends. I can protect myself from enemies."

Is it possible that my brother is "deceived" when he pens the following statement? I certainly hope [illegible] he blunders, that he errs not willingly when he says "she calls those cowards who are unwilling to indorse the character of Senator Mitchell." "Friend" if this be true, I [illegible] myself thus one of "cowards," for I not only never have indorsed a single sinful act of Senator Mitchell or any other man, but I have denounced in all proper ways, by tongue and pen, the Senator's wicked acts, as well as the [illegible] and silly [illegible] of the Republican Convention, which fell into the trap prepared for it by its Democratic foes.

I also beg leave to inform the gentleman that Senator Mitchell was not before the people as a candidate for the [illegible] during the fall campaign at all. He had been elected a year before as Senator, and the choice lay, as matters stood in the fall contest, between Hiram Smith as a moral man and woman's rights man such as you say you have been from your youth" and J W Nesmith an anti woman's rights man whose social record is no better than Senator Mitchell's.

When or where have I called any man a coward or any other epithet for refusing to endorse the character of Senator Mitchell? I respectfully demand the documents.

It is very strange that men of reasonable intelligence, and capable of discoursing as ably as you have done in the letter which has called forth this article should yet be so badly in the fog as to imagine that you can make the reading public believe me guilty of accepting bribes when I simply follow a straight consistent and sensible line of such political action as I clearly see will culminate in such a troubling of the political pool as shall compel our law makers to accede to woman's just demands to light the lamps of truth, justice and equal rights. Hoping sir, to hear from you again I am, sincerely etc

BAKER CITY CORRESPONDENCE.

BAKER CITY Nov 6, 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Baker City for the past week has been quite lively—teams arriving from below laden with assorted merchandise for our merchants farmers coming in with grain and vegetables, and teams from Walla Walla with winter fruit. Apples are selling here at from 4 to 6 cents per pound eggs 40 cents per dozen butter, 45 cents per pound oats 1 cent per pound. Altogether fall trade is better than was anticipated some time since.

The weather last week was cold, disagreeable and windy. Yesterday we had a little sleet and quite a rain which ceased in the evening, laying the dust and making our roads much more pleasant for travel.

The Virtue gold mine—working now below water level is turning out rich rock and promises to be one of the permanent paying mines of this coast. Rye valley has silver and gold quartz mines that yield ore which nets the proprietor Mr Green after paying all expenses over $200 per ton milled and sold in San Francisco and in the same mountain are a dozen mines as good awaiting development. Were these mines in Utah they would at once attract the attention of capitalists. Connor creek gold lode is doing well the owners having a large amount of $40 ore in sight.

The placer mines have about closed down for the season. Some few are rocking in warm places.

Should we have plenty of snow and rain this coming winter I look for a better mining season to come next year than the present has been.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of money and tight times buildings are constantly going up and there are no vacant houses in town.

I hear vague rumors of the discovery of a rich lode of gold and silver found some 10 miles from town not far from Burnt river—a thing of [illegible].

W [illegible] Lockfellow is out looking for quartz in the vicinity of Fort Sumter.

GOLD [illegible] ITS LOWEST POINT.—A New York dispatch of November 5th says: The advance in Bank of England rates and reported railroad defalcations here have demoralized foreign exchange. The prominent features of the day arose out of the scarcity of money among merchants and some fear about the situation at London. The price of gold fell to the lowest point since the early part of 1862 when the issue of paper money by Government commenced. The result of the November elections is interpreted as meaning no further issue of paper and an effort to return to specie payments. The day closed with little recovery from extreme depression. Money closed at 7 per cent after reaching as high as [illegible]. The rates for carrying were [illegible] per cent. Foreign exchange was utterly demoralized.

Berlin proposes to raise a monument to the memory of Carl Wilhelm the author of the "Wacht am Rhein." They call him a whole division of the German army.

THE TERRITORIES

Large lots of wheat have accumulated at Wallula.

The District Court Judge Green presiding, convened at Olympia last Monday.

Gold compared with greenbacks is quoted in Montana at less than three per cent premium.

The Belcher smelter has started up again in Corinne and is sampling Montana ore in large quantities.

Recent sales of XXX flour have been made in the Helena market at the low price of $2 per 100 lbs.

One day last week the W U T wires were down in twenty one places between Salt Lake and Ogden.

The Utah Mining Gazette contains a woodcut of the "Teeth of the Elephas Primigenius, exhumed in Montana."

A letter in the Walla Walla Union dated Oct 25th, seems to confirm the reported richness of the Yakima gold mines.

The Denver News says an old hunter just in from the mountains, loaded down with stale bear meat and venison, predicts a cold winter.

A literary relic of great interest has lately been added to the Salt Lake Museum. A genuine black letter German Bible, upwards of 300 years old.

The Laramie Independent says there isn't a female in the Wyoming Legislature unless the people of Wyoming have been grossly deceived and have, unawares, chosen a female in disguise.

The Helena Gazette says "The difficulty of Montana banks in adapting themselves to specie payments would be trifling if the Government would give the Territory a mint to coin our gold and silver products."

The first ten miles of the Walla Walla and Wallula Railroad is now complete and in working order. Over this road the cars are making daily trips, and up to date have transported some 600 tons of produce charging at the rate of $1 50 per ton.

The woolen factory at Dayton, W. T., is working twelve hands, and is in much need of a weaver and spinner, to work effectively with a full force. They are now manufacturing some first class blankets which will be put upon the market in a week or two.

John B Townsend was killed by Apaches in Arizona. The Prescott Miner says of him: Deceased was a native of Texas. Since coming here in the fall of 1867, he had, in fair and open combat, killed twenty-six Indians. He must have killed some more in his last fight, as two or more shells of his cartridges were found. Fear was a feeling with which he was entirely unacquainted. Brave even to rashness, he never faltered, even when alone, in attacking any number of Apaches.

THE MAD-STONE

HYDROPHOBIA CURED—A REMARKABLE HEALING STONE

It will be remembered that some few weeks since there appeared in the public prints an account of the biting by a mad dog of the infant daughter of Captain H R P[illegible], Superintendent of Public Education for the State of Mississippi. A letter from the young mother to a friend in this city, giving an account of the singular treatment by the application of the "mad-stone," has been received. We give the following extract:

On the 25th of July Emma was bitten by a mad dog. (She is well now.) Captain was not with us down the coast, and as soon as I could communicate with him I did so by telegraph. He came to us immediately, and we took Emma on the next train to Holly Springs, in the northern part of the State, to a doctor who makes hydrophobia a specialty. He has what is called a mad stone. We had no faith in it, but all here seemed to believe in it firmly, and as physicians could not attempt a cure, we went to the "stone." We reached there six days after the child was bitten, and the places had nearly healed up. The doctor took off the dried scab and applied the stone. He said "If the stone stuck to the wound the dog was mad; if it did not we might fear nothing, the dog was not mad." The stone stuck to the wound about fifteen hours. In about three hours after it was applied the smell from the bitten finger and from the stone was worse than any putrid flesh one could imagine, and her breath and perspiration all smelled the same. Previous to the application of the stone no odor existed about her or the stone. Her bowels commenced to run off immediately, and after the stone had been applied and fallen off itself from both bites she had only one offensive operation from the bowels, and that was about half an hour after the doctor pronounced a cure. So, whatever there is about the stone, it did work wonderfully on the child. There have been 1,152 cases of mad-dog and snake bites cured beyond a doubt by the same stone. No one can tell what we suffered until the critical time, nine days, passed, and even now I feel very anxious about her. Hydrophobia is such a terrible thing I can't bear to think of it.

The dog was a small species of black and tan. I saw the first symptoms of madness and watched the dog all through his spasms and could not be mistaken though I tried to think it only a fit. I try yet to think it a fit but the action of the stone gave evidence that the dog was rabid.

The letter containing the above extract was handed to us by a gentleman who was for some years the attending physician of Capt Pease's family, and therefore the facts as stated can be depended upon as wholly reliable.—Washington Chronicle.

BEN HOLLADAY

The following is from a San Francisco letter to the New York Sun:

I met a man in the Cosmopolitan Hotel today and asked him if he knew Ben Holladay. "Old Ben or young Ben?" he inquired. "Old Ben," I answered. "Very well indeed," said he. "What sort of a man is old Ben?" was the next question. "The best index to his character is a story that I heard him tell in the Lick House upon his return from the wreck of the Golden Gate. You see Ben was a passenger on that vessel when she was burned. Somebody asked him how he escaped from the burning ship. 'Well,' says Ben, 'you see I was on the main deck forward. It was a good place to be for the motion of the ship as she headed toward the shore was driving the flames aft. I knew the ship was dead gone. The best place for Ben Holladay was overboard and I began to look about for something to float on. The life preservers were stowed and I didn't know where to find them. Pretty soon I saw a man coming up the fore hatch on a broad step ladder leading to a lower deck where the steerage passengers lived. There were a whole lot of them down there and the women were squealing and wailing. I asked the man when he came up if he had any further use for that ladder and he said he hadn't that it wasn't his ladder anyhow. So I took my knife and cut the lashings and hauled the ladder on deck. It was heavy and mighty hard work but I dragged it up to the side of the ship and hove it overboard and jumped after it and got on it and the first thing I knew the wheel struck, and that's what hurt my back. I floated on the ladder until a boat picked me up.' 'What about the steerage passengers who were left below without any ladder?' inquired one of the listeners. 'Oh, I didn't know any of them,' Ben replied. 'I had no business with them. I was looking out for Ben Holladay's interest.'" Here the Cosmopolitan man looked me full in the eye, and said, "That is the sort of a man Ben Holladay is. You ought to get acquainted with him. He's a mighty pleasant old fellow."

A widow of 23 years, in Hillsboro, capitulated to a gentleman of 60 years, who wears "specs," at Wapato. Another strong tie binding the two precincts together.

The trip from Astoria to Salem in one day was made recently, and the Astorian devotes a column to commenting on the fact. The thing might have been done long ago and has been done before.

A friend writes as follows: "There is a gentleman in Hillsboro to-day selling a new patent, double back-action self-adjusting non-chafing spring bed. Hungate & Shindler are to be blamed hereafter for late rising."

Two butcher stalls are now in full blast in Hillsboro. One claims superiority of stock on account of a side of bacon hung up. The other is equally positive that his is the best because he has a half salmon and two mackerel in his.

We learn that on the 4th instant a sad accident occurred on the race track at La Grande. A young man named Dorris was training a horse, which flew the track and ran under a pole at one side. Dorris' head struck the pole, and his brains were knocked out, causing his death instantly. The affair caused much regret among the friends of the young man.

For six days the threatening clouds have tried to give this county a drop of rain, but it was no use. Everybody is too hot on the tax question to admit even a few drops. The weather clerk has given it up."

The Statesman says: "About half past four o'clock Saturday afternoon a young son of Mr. John Minto met with a painful accident, and one which, possibly, may yet result fatally. He and his brother, with [illegible] were hunting along the slough, and, seeing some ducks on the water, his brother went [illegible] the gun in order to get a shot. WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV 12, 1873.

A LYCEUM FOR PORTLAND

It affords us great pleasure to be able to announce that a movement has been set on foot by several prominent citizens of Portland to establish a course of lectures on Geology and the natural sciences, by our esteemed and learned fellow-citizen, Rev. Thomas Condon. The course is to consist of between twelve and twenty lectures. They will be delivered at convenient intervals, and the fee of admission will be placed at a figure which will put this rare privilege within reach of all. The lecturer will bring to his task a mind stored with varied acquirements, thoroughly drilled by laborious researches in the rich fossil fields of Oregon, and an enthusiasm which cannot fail to inspire his hearers with a desire to know somewhat of the magnificent science which has accomplished more than any other in finding the lost links in the history of creation.

We have at various times felt like urging upon the intelligent people of this city some plan for the organization of a lyceum system. The lyceum is peculiarly an American institution. Of late years its growth on the Atlantic coast has been rapid, and its results most beneficial. Now, almost every village in New England has its course of lectures for the long and tedius winters. In the diffusion of knowledge among all classes the lyceum has proven a most valuable agent. In response to summons from the lecture bureaus of New York and Massachusetts, some of the brightest lights in the English scientific and literary world have crossed the Atlantic to appear before American audiences. We have had Tyndall, and Dickens, and Thackeray, Collins, Bradlaugh and Bellew, with a host of less eminent celebrities. From our own universities we have had Agassiz, Mitchell, Dana, Silliman and a score of others. We say we have had these, because the wonderful genius of the printing press has carried their words into every nook and corner of the continent. The Tribune lecture extras, in which such remarkable enterprise was displayed, have proven most worthy auxiliaries in this field. To many hungry minds the lyceum affords that sustenance which was denied in youth by adverse circumstances and cruel necessity. Particularly is this true of many communities on these western shores. The spirit which establishes and sustains the lecture-room brings to America the Nilssons and Pattis, the Rubinsteins and the Salvinis of the opera and the drama. This spirit is not wanting in the Pacific States. Within the past few months San Francisco has listened to Agassiz and Dr. Lord.

We want to see the thinking people of this city emulate the example of older communities. We have wealth and intelligence. With the one we can procure the means for gratifying the noble zeal of the other. But self-interest and gratification are not the only motives which should move us in this matter. In more instances than one we have shown ourselves partially indifferent to the genius which lies undeveloped all around us,—undeveloped for lack of encouragement. We know of no opportunity more advantageous than the present for commending to the attention of some wealthy patron the claims of a genius whose extraordinary ability has never met with any substantial recognition. We refer to the promising young artist, Parrott, of Salem. One of his finest productions is now on exhibition in this city. Whatever cold and unsympathetic criticism may say of it, we are persuaded that in the brain of this modest young man there is a spark of divine genius which needs but the substantial aid of a friend to kindle into a shining light whose radiance will yet adorn our State, and lend historic glory to his humble birth. We have referred to Parrott's Rainier. The critic may discover some grave infraction on the rules of art, but we are inclined to accept in preference to the verdict of any formula, the judgment of a grizzled old mountaineer, who, after a long and careful survey of the magnificent basaltic cliff in the foreground, said in the expressive dialect of his class: "It's thar!" It is there—genius, unmistakable and unalloyed. But it is genius suppressed and held in bondage by poverty. The singer and the artist had their patrons in the Augustan age. Shall we do less than did the Romans?

But we have wandered far from our original intent, and we return to the theme suggested at the outset, to urge our readers to encourage, by their influence and by their money, the plan which Mr. Condon's friends have set on foot. We have some delicacy in referring to the pecuniary aid of which that gentleman stands so much in need. It is neither at the instance of his friends nor with his own knowledge that we allude to the fact that his valuable labors can not be prosecuted without money. In science, as in all commercial transactions, hard cash is the one thing needful. The jewels of Isabella discovered this continent. The twenty-dollar pieces of our day have lifted the stony veil which hides the secrets of creation's æons from the hammer of the geologist. "Light! More light!" is the cry of this generation. "Cash! More cash!" comes back from the student in the laboratory and in the mountain. We hope that the mute appeal from our indefatigable friend will meet with a ready response.

A FEW MATTERS OF RECORD

We smiled yesterday when the Bulletin, choking with wrath at the trouncing we gave it last week, said

> Only a few weeks ago it [the OREGONIAN] was ridiculing Mr Smith, treating him with all manner of contempt, denouncing him as a corrupt man who had furnished money to debauch our politics, etc.

As to the first part of this accusation we have only to refer the Bulletin to files of the OREGONIAN, and to mention the fact that Hiram Smith called on us immediately after his defeat and expressed his appreciation of the uniform courtesy and kindness with which the OREGONIAN treated him during the campaign. In answer to the second part of the charge we will quote from editorial articles which appeared in the OREGONIAN of October 14th and October 20th. In our exposure of the infamous "card" trick, we said

> This is the way in which Multnomah county was carried for Hiram Smith. That honest gentleman would not like to have his name connected with such infamous frauds, nor do we feel disposed to regard him as an accessory to the crime.—DAILY OREGONIAN, October 14th

Again.

> We stated that Hiram Smith gave $1,000 to aid in the election. The Bulletin denounces this as a falsehood, and says: "Hiram Smith did not contribute $1,000, nor did he contribute any other sum." In answer to this we say, only, that it is wholly a question of veracity between Hiram Smith and the associate editor of the Bulletin. We have not at any time charged that Mr. Smith contributed this sum to aid in the specific purpose for which it was used. We do not believe that that gentleman (for whom we entertain a high regard) would knowingly contribute to a scheme of wholesale bribery. Nor did we state that the money was so used. The Bulletin has admitted that $550 covered the printing bills. The public can guess what was done with the remainder.—DAILY OREGONIAN, October 20th

Just here we may as well call attention to the fact that the Bulletin never afterward opened its head on the subject of Hiram Smith's contribution.

On another occasion we as[illegible]d on excellent authority that Mr. Smith was in that back room council in Dolph, Bronaugh, Dolph and Simon's office. Mr. Smith called at this office and assured us that we had been misinformed, whereupon we volunteered to correct our statement. That correction appeared in the DAILY OREGONIAN, Oct. 17th, from which number we quote:

> We have on several occasions expressed the high regard we entertain for Mr. Smith. We are far from wishing to do him any injustice. Our statement, as will be seen, was based on evidence quite conclusive until the gentleman's denial was made.

Thus from our recorded words and out of Mr. Smith's own mouth, we have convicted the Bulletin of wantonly misrepresenting the OREGONIAN. Could anything be meaner than this attempt to take dishonest advantage of an adversary? In all our dealings with the Bulletin we have never once misquoted or garbled the meaning of a paragraph. We have a right to expect fair dealing, but we beg to assure the editors of that sheet that we are not disappointed when we do not receive it. In another place we make some allusion to the record of the Bulletin.

AS TO CONSISTENCY.

The irritable Bulletin snarls an accusation that the OREGONIAN has treated Hiram Smith with contempt. We notice that accusation in another place. It may be well to consider the manner in which the Bulletin has treated Mr. Nesmith. Let us contrast some of the denunciations before the election with some of the sickening, fulsome eulogies uttered after the election. Here they are.

Before the election:

> Republicans can not forget how he [Nesmith] went against them at a critical hour of the war.—Bulletin, Oct. 6th.

After the election:

> But the Bulletin, as a Republican organ, can not forget the valuable services which Colonel Nesmith performed for the Union cause and in support of the Constitution during his term of six years as United States Senator from Oregon—the most trying years as they were in the history of the Nation as far as the maintenance of the States in their complete unity and integrity were concerned. In remembrance of these services, we now choose this opportunity to congratulate and compliment him.—Bulletin, Nov. 7th.

We can forget and we can't forget! But once more. Before the election:

> He [Nesmith] has been a "various" man; he has been "everything by starts and nothing long." His inconsistencies are characteristic. Bulletin, Oct. 6th.

After the election:

> Colonel Nesmith is now Oregon's Representative in Congress, and we acknowledge, without exception, that he is the truest and ablest man in his party.—Bulletin, Nov. 7th.

Before the election:

> They [Republicans] can not forget how he went against them at a critical hour of the war.—Bulletin, Oct. 6th.

After the election:

> In his position as Senator, and as the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, while in the Senate, he wielded an influence which was barely equalled by any of the Senators from the most populous States. His Union record was of the best, while his devotion to his party was undoubted.—Bulletin, Nov. 7th.

Before the election:

> Mr. Nesmith can do nothing at Washington. * * What could he do, then, as an advocate of Oregon's interests? Nothing whatever.—Bulletin, Oct. 6th.

After the election:

> Consequently, Colonel Nesmith will go into the House of Representatives not as a new, or as an unknown or uninfluential personage, but as one capable of achieving much for his State, and qualified to fill the important trust confided to his charge.—Bulletin Nov. 7th.

Before the election, Mr. Nesmith was "a blackguard," making political speeches while "in his cups:"—after the election—"as a gentleman, we wish him a pleasant voyage to San Francisco and a safe journey overland."

We might continue these quotations, but we have given enough to show what despicable hypocrisy and servility inflates the gigantic bag of wind which is the author of the articles we have cited. Perhaps the Bulletin has some more suggestions to offer on the subject of consistency.

From the meager advices now at hand we are reasonably certain that New York has adopted the Constitutional Amendment providing for the appointment of Judges by the Executive. Of course New York City gave a large majority against the proposed change. But it is fair to presume, indeed it is an unquestionable fact, that this majority was the work of politicians and not the verdict of an enlightened judgment. The machinery of New York courts has been a valuable auxiliary, in more instances than one, to rings and cliques. In 1870, Massachusetts adopted an appointed Judiciary, and so far as we have heard, no substantial complaint has ever been urged against the new system. The bar of New York was unanimous in support of the reform and the results of last week's vote will be watched with interest by all of the States who are now disposed to discard the elective system. If the trial in New York shall prove satisfactory, we may look for a very general change of the same nature all over the United States.

The New York Times of August 29th publishes an interesting extract from a report of Dr. D. T. Brown before the Association of Medical Superintendents at Baltimore. We make the following excerpt

> Another incident in this connection may possess more interest to you as illustrating a truism often found in insane hospital reports, that insanity spares no class of men nor any grade of intellect. But a few months after this onslaught of the Tribune upon the institution of which I have medical charge, its "great editor," Mr Horace Greeley became insane and in a brief period the "managing editor" of the paper came to consult me as to what should be done for him. I recommend that he be placed in the care of one of our colleagues, Dr. George Choate, at whose private institution the distinguished journalist and recent candidate for the Presidency of the United States died of exhaustive acute mania.
> I may add that Mr. Greeley was not the only editor of the Tribune who had been under my professional care, and that had it not been that the obligations of professional confidence forbade, I could very readily have established a "counter irritation" to the Tribune's attack, which would have been amusing to the public if not edifying to scientific readers.

The Helena (Montana) Herald, a staunch Republican newspaper, evinces a very clear knowledge of political affairs in our State, in the following remarks concerning the result of the late election

> Nesmith (Dem.), elected to the Lower House of Congress from Oregon, is a man of ability and experience in public life. While in the U. S. Senate he showed himself not only a very competent man, but a stout Union man. He was not very popular with his party in Oregon, for he gave great offense to many of his Democratic friends when he espoused the Union cause and labored loyally and well to uphold the Government in the time of its greatest peril. The class of political outcasts is still a considerable element of the Democracy of that State, and Nesmith would not have run ahead of his party in the late contest but the blunder made by the Republican Convention in endorsing Senator Hipple-Mitchell gave him a great advantage. Nesmith's election is claimed, of course, as a Democratic victory, but to Republican votes is he indebted for his seat in Congress.

WEDNESDAY MORNING NOV. 12, 1873

CITY.

[illegible] —We had a call yesterday from M. A. Watson of San Francisco who has just arrived per steamer California from the Cassiar gold mines in British Columbia. He represents them as very rich, exceeding perhaps the California or Australia. A large number of men have been at work the past fall and have made money, the average being no less than an ounce a day to the hand, while many have taken out more. About eighteen miners came down on the California from Fort Wrangle, which is the landing point on the coast, and something near 250 miles from the mines. Fort Wrangle is eight miles from the mouth of the Stikeen river which is navigable for boats 160 miles, to a place called Buck's Bar. From this point to the mines 80 or 90 miles, all supplies have to be carried 40 miles by land and about the same distance in canoes on Dease Lake. At present the white men have mostly left the mines to winter about forty of them being at Buck's Bar where they will remain till spring and then return. Mr Martin sent up from Fort Wrangle 200 sacks of flour to the Bar, paying Indians $4 per sack to carry it up in canoes. He says he would not advise a man to start up with less than $200 or $300 as fare and provisions are sure to be very dear. No one need go with the expectation of doing anything in the mines till spring. There can be no mining in that region before May on account of the coldness of the climate. Should the opening of the mining season next spring confirm these reports we shall expect to see a large number of men going thither. Portland will be the initial point of supply and may reap material benefit from the discovery.

Sitka Mines.—By the steamer California which reached here on Monday evening Mr Jos Knott and Jack Knott arrived from Sitka. These gentlemen report that the gold discoveries in those regions are still creating much excitement. In view of the approaching winter mining operations for the present season have been wholly suspended at the Stikeen mines. Fourteen persons who have been engaged at work at those mines during the present season reached Sitka a few days prior to the sailing of the California, and came on that vessel to Victoria, where they intend to winter. Next spring they purpose returning to the mines as early as the weather will admit of operations. Mr Knott brought down $100 in gold, taken from the Stikeen diggings. This gold is in coarse pieces, and is almost wholly free from other metal. It will average $16 per ounce. These gentlemen visited the recently discovered quartz mines about fifteen miles from Sitka. They brought down nearly 200 pounds of the rock, a portion of which will be assayed. The result—whether favorable or unfavorable—will be known in a few days. The lode from which Mr Knott procured the quartz is well defined being about ten and a half feet wide and of considerable depth. A great exodus of miners is expected next year to these newly discovered gold fields of the Northwest, including the Sitka Stikeen and Cassiar mines.

A Good Day's Work.—Yesterday we were shown a letter received by a gentleman in this city from the Stikeen country. The writer is well known in Portland, and his veracity unquestioned. He formed one of a party that left here about three years since for that portion of British Columbia. All of the party became discouraged after a few months and abandoned the country, except the writer of the letter in question. Most of the time he has spent in prospecting near the headwaters of the Stikeen river. He has located a claim which has been worked for the past season with excellent success. One hundred and seventy dollars in dust were dug out in one day and $500 were the fruits of twelve days' labor. The writer speaks in glowing terms of the prospects for richness and extent of these gold discoveries.

Examination.—The examination of classes at the Portland Academy and Female Seminary corner of Seventh and Jefferson will commence to day. During this and to-morrow afternoon classes will be examined in the following studies: English Grammar first book in Latin Cæsar Cicero, Practical Arithmetic Physics, Geology and Physiology. On Thursday and Friday forenoon classes will be examined in Natural Philosophy, Higher Arithmetic, Algebra English Composition, Latin and Greek. This will close the present term of school. The next term of school will commence on the 17th inst.

Mr. Levi Leland.—This popular and well known lecturer will hold forth on the subject of "Temperance" this evening at Nonpareil Hall, corner of First and Madison streets. Mr Leland is generally regarded as one of the most engaging and eloquent lecturers on the subject of Temperance, who has yet visited Oregon. Invariably his efforts please, instruct, amuse and edify. His lectures are free, and the public are cordially invited to attend. Mr Leland will also lecture on Saturday evening at the Good Templars Hall, corner of Third and Alder streets.

Sociable.—This evening the young ladies connected with the Taylor street M E Church will give a sociable and oyster supper. Their last sociable was in August last, and was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the kind in the city. This sociable, from what we learn of the preparations that are being made, promises if possible, to be better than any previous one. We advise every one, whether members of this or any other Church in the city if they want to enjoy themselves, to attend this sociable.

Rough Weather.—For several days past the weather off the bar has been very rough. When the winds ceased to blow and the waters were no longer vexed the fog settled down in such impenetrable clouds as to render navigation difficult and not unattended with danger. In consequence of this the Guane Telfair and California were both detained beyond the usual time—the former from crossing out and the latter from coming in.

The Jolly Good Fellows.—This organization gave the second of their social parties this season at Nonpareil Hall last evening. The attendance was larger than on a previous occasion and evidently all present enjoyed themselves. We observed very few wall flowers, which shows that the management understood what was required of them. Another party will be given ere the close of the month.

Bark Alloa.—The British bark Alloa, which arrived at Astoria on Monday was taken in tow yesterday morning by the Dixie Thompson and will probably arrive here this forenoon. This vessel came from Liverpool to Callao bringing a large assorted cargo. Discharging her load the Alloa received ballast and sailed for this port. She will carry grain to Europe.

Arrival of Rodents.—A San Francisco exchange says [illegible] Hall of Portland Oregon, has arrived in this city on his way from England with a number of trained ferrets, with which he intends to exterminate the squirrels in the neighborhood. We have an opinion that [illegible] the thing for the pesky squirrel.

Our Thanks.—We take this occasion to return our thanks to Rev. Mr Rea the [illegible] during Secretary of the Oregon Presbytery which body closed its labors yesterday. During the sessions we were placed under obligations for the many favors received at the hands of the obliging Secretary.

Bill of Indictment.—The United States Grand Jury came into court yesterday and presented a bill of indictment. A warrant was issued at once for the arrest of the party and [illegible] and his bail fixed at $800. The Court will convene again this morning.

Adjourned.—After a pleasant protracted and harmonious session of several days the Oregon Presbytery concluded its labors yesterday and adjourned. The next meeting of this body will be held at Eugene City commencing on the first Thursday of April 1874.

Another Patient.—Officer P Herren of Salem arrived here on Monday evening having in custody an insane man named James F Moore. The patient is about 19 years of age. Cause of insanity unknown. There are now 187 patients at the asylum.

Under Arrest.—A man named John Steuly residing below the city was arrested last evening on two charges. One charge was assault and battery and the other was running a wagon without a license. These charges will be investigated this morning.

School Taxes.—Mr R J Ladd School Clerk announces that he is ready to receive school taxes at his office from all persons who are liable for the same. Thirty days are allowed the average taxpayer to step up and disgorge.

Will be Tested.—This evening at 7 o'clock Mr J R Dwyer agent for the Babcock Fire Extinguisher will make a public test of the merits of the apparatus. The exhibition will be given at the St Charles Hotel.

Roll Ready.—The labor of computing the tax list for next year is progressing rapidly toward completion. Mr Waters informs us that he will have it all ready to place in the Sheriff's hands by the 28th inst.

Schooner Hera.—This schooner reached here on Monday afternoon. She came from San Francisco and will carry away a cargo of wheat. At present the Hera is lying at the Steamship Company's wharf.

District Attorney Pro Tem.—H Y Thompson Esq was appointed District Attorney pro tem yesterday in the Circuit Court in consequence of the temporary absence of Mr Durham from the county.

Oysters.—Large lot of Eastern oysters received by this steamer at Keith's.

DIRECTOR'S MEETING.

A regular meeting of the Directors of School District No 1 was held last evening. A full Board was present.

A resolution was introduced and passed requesting the Clerk to furnish a statement of the financial condition of the District.

A resolution was also presented to the effect that the District adopt the "Text Books" as required by the State Board of Education. On motion, the resolution was laid on the table.

The City Superintendent was instructed to purchase as many blackboards for the use of the public schools as were required.

It was resolved that all teachers employed in District No 1 who refused to attend the Teachers' Institute monthly will be regarded as having tendered their resignation.

No other business of importance being before the Board, except auditing a few bills it adjourned.

Keep Out the Cold.—During the winter months everybody is anxious to avoid the severity of the weather, and various modes are resorted to in carrying out the best means of keeping warm. While BECK & WALDMAN are selling clothing from their immense stock at extremely low prices it would be well to call in and select a winter suit. They keep the best, sell as low as any house and do not propose to be outdone by any other house in the city. They are to be found at the old stand S W corner Washington and Front streets.

Clothe Yourself.—Now is the time to make a purchase of winter clothing. If you have not done so make it a point to consult J KOHN & CO who are able to show you the finest assortment of goods ever displayed in this city. They have the largest store and are thus enabled to lay in an immense stock. There is no denying the fact. You need not hesitate about prices as they have put the figures down to allow but a small margin to themselves. The place is opposite the National Bank.

Don't go home to night without having previously made arrangements with John O'Neil & Co to do up a fall suit in their own peculiar style which is quite popular as the elegant suits daily seen on the streets from this house will attest. Mr Scharf of the firm has been to San Francisco. That is sufficient. Be sure to call and select from the latest arrivals which are new and novel. The place is 91 First street.

The variety of Foreign and Domestic Fruits to be seen at W ASCHENHEIM'S 15 First Street is immense for this time of the year. Go and see it.

OREGON PRESBYTERY.

MONDAY EVENING'S PROCEEDINGS

Presbytery convened and was called to order by the Moderator.

Rev Mr Thompson having returned from Olympia resumed his seat.

General Babbitt was called to the Chair while the Moderator gave in his report as Financial Agent of Albany Collegiate Institute.

The report stated that the Agent had made no effort in behalf of the Institute while in San Francisco owing to strenuous efforts there being made to pay off Church debts and to endow the Theological Seminary—but that the sum of $4 500 had been raised in Portland.

The report was accepted, and the Agent thanked for his diligence and at his own request relieved from further duty.

Rev Dr Geary made a statement of his efforts while in the East in behalf of the same institute showing that he had raised the sum of $440 a portion of it to be expended for the special object of paying the tuition of worthy and indigent young ladies.

The report was accepted and the agent's action approved.

Dr Geary who was Commissioner to the late General Assembly also reported verbally to the Presbytery. His report was accepted and course approved.

The following resolution was introduced and adopted:

Resolved That the Presbytery heartily approve of our present system of meeting the traveling and contingent expenses of the General Assembly by Presbyterial assessments, as the wisest and most equitable ever devised for this object and that it should by no means be abandoned.

Resolved That we recommend to the Trustees of the Albany Collegiate Institute to pay Dr Geary for services as financial agent at least the sum he has specially expended on his late tour in behalf of the Institute.

Messrs Thompson and Condon reported upon the state of religion in their respective fields.

The following resolutions were then presented and unanimously adopted:

Resolved That the Executive Committee be instructed to forward to the Foreign Mission Board a full copy of the supplementary report and sent to Agent Monteith some time ago referring to needed improvements in various departments of industry and education upon Lapwai Reservation.

Resolved That we recommend the Foreign Missionary Board to pay to H H Spaulding a salary of $1 200 per annum.

Resolved That we express our thanks to the reporters and publishers of the DAILY OREGONIAN and Bulletin for the unusual accuracy with which they have given our proceedings to the public.

Resolved That we tender our sincere thanks to the kind friends of Portland for their generous hospitalities shown the members of the Presbytery and for the interest manifested by them in our public devotional services.

The Presbytery then adjourned with prayer and benediction, to meet at Eugene City on the first Thursday of April, at 7 30 o'clock P M.

Responses to prayers and sermons may be good, if they come in at the right place. Not so, however came in a response recently to a minister who had come down from the pulpit to invite a stranger in one of the pews to preach for him, but was unsuccessful. "Brethren, said he, I invite Brother S— to preach but he declines." "Thank God!" roared out a man from the middle of the church.

Medical Bubbles.

Columns would be required to enumerate the medical bubbles that have risen to the surface and burst since Hostetter's Stomach Bitters became the standard tonic of the Western Hemisphere. Boasts the most extravagant, fabrications the most preposterous cant, the most sickening have in turn been employed to bolster up the worthless preparations that have from time to time been introduced in the hope of dividing the field with that famous vegetable remedy. MARY AND I.

Twas evening in May and the soft zephyr sighed
Through branches low bending above,
My Mary and I as we wandered along,
And I whisper'd of beauty and love.
We'll make us a nest like the birdlings, I said
And never shall part any more.
"Oh yes" she replied "and can furnish it nice,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

Fair creature, there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride
But no one can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure, my beauty and pride!
Oh! had I a mansion with carpets of gold
And silver I'd cover the floor.
But smiling she said "You can purchase the best
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE

I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest
Of the fleeciest down — but she said with a sigh
I like a hair mattrass the best
Then so it shall be I said and tables inlaid
And seats from some far distant shore
Oh no she exclaimed "They have elegant sets
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE

But Mary alas, I must sadly confess
My means are but slender as yet
To furnish a house in the style you demand
Would hopelessly plunge me in debt—
To ask you to share my poor lodgings and board
Is something that I should deplore.
She said with a smile "You can buy very cheap
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

To-morrow then love, let us journey along
To the corner of Alder and Front street—
The numbers 98 and 100 (river side)
Where lovers so happily meet.
How many fond souls might be severed for years
From those they so fondly adore
Were it not for the beautiful furniture they have
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE,

They have marble top bureaus and elegant sets
Of Bedroom furniture new
With center tables and what nots and mirrors great
And an endless variety of chairs not a few
They do a cash business, and with money in hand
To purchase every style of furniture lower,
Are able to supply all the public demand
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

We went, Mary and I and can I ever forget
The pleasure that beamed in her face
As she gazed at the marvels of beauty displayed
In HURGREN & SHINDLER'S place!
We furnished our home in an elegant style,
Been married a twelve month or more,
And Mary is singing this song to her babe,
Of HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

TO ONE BELOVED

My darling if beneath the sea
With all its waves above my head
I lay and thou shouldst speak to me
I think that I should [illegible] the dead
And come to thee

Could my lone spirit lost in space,
Hear one fond sigh thy soul had given
I'd fly to earth for thy embrace
Nor grieve for aye in [illegible] Heaven

Hold but thy hand thy loving hand,
To me across the dark above
And let me see thy waiting smile
And back should I return to this
From even the better land

Give me the beatings of thy heart
Give me the kisses of thy lips
And let life's common joys depart
[illegible]

My dearest earth [illegible]
Not even the boundless realms of space,
Could separate my soul from thee
Or win me from my love's embrace
[illegible] thou but wait for me

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN

The following reminiscence will be found of great interest

From Miss Cushman's own lips the writer of this once heard the history of her first appearance in the role of Meg Merrilies. It happened while she was filling the position of walking lady at the old Park Street Theater New York in the season of 1837-8 and was the result of pure accident. John Braham, the great London tenor, was performing an engagement at the time and a series of the old English operas had been put upon the boards. "Guy Mannering," which was originally produced as a musical drama, was one of those. The greater part of the play was spoken, but melodies and set pieces were interspersed which called into requisition the art of the vocalist. The character of Henry Bertram was assumed by Braham, while Miss Cushman was cast for the humble part of the young Gipsy, Marie. As the business of the play was then arranged it fell to the lot of Marie to sing the cradle song in the scene where Meg recalls herself to the recollections of Bertram by means of the ballad with which she used to soothe him to sleep in his childhood. Acting upon the supposition that her voice was broken by age and unequal to the task, it was her custom to summon the young Gipsy to revive the song for her.

One day after rehearsal the leading lady of the theater was suddenly seized with indisposition. In the dilemma that arose the manager begged Miss Cushman to go on and read the part of Meg Merrilies that evening. Miss Cushman willingly consented but with no intention of reading the part. She took the lines to her room and had them at her tongue's end by nightfall. But to use her own words: "I had never paid any consideration to that character," said Miss Cushman. "It was always my habit to attend studiously to my own business and give no heed to the performances of the others. When [illegible] on the stage I watched them closely to learn whatever was possible. At other times I confined myself to my individual work. Thus it came about that I had little idea how Meg Merrilies was dressed or played, and never having rehearsed the part, was entirely ignorant of the business. While I was conning my lines and walking back and forth behind the scenes waiting for the curtain to rise on the play, the manager came to me again. 'I have forgotten to provide a singer in the part of the young Gipsy,' he exclaimed, 'what shall we do?' 'I don't know, I'm sure,' replied I. But after thinking a moment, I added, 'Perhaps, when I come to the place, I can manage to introduce the song myself. I will try,' and thus relieved, the [illegible] left me.

"In the [illegible] I listened at the wings trying to catch some inspiration from the progress of the play. When I overheard the closing words in the dialogue between Hatteraick and the Gipsy—just preceding the appearance of Meg on the scene—when one says of her, 'Oh, she dotes.' To which the other replies: 'But she rules the tribe.' These sentences gave me a sudden clew to the situation of the decrepit but still powerful queen, and a full conception of the character [illegible] upon me.

"I [illegible] before the footlights in the attitude I have ever since taken. The pose was so novel and striking the audience manifested a good deal of emotion, and when Braham [illegible] and discovered me he gave an unaffected start of astonishment. This assured me somewhat, and I went on with the part, giving it all the important [illegible] and action which I have always retained. I saw that Braham was puzzled throughout the evening, that I was continually surprising him, but whether pleasantly or not I could not tell. As we had not rehearsed together, and I was consequently ignorant of the [illegible] business, I had to trust wholly to my intuitions and naturally occasioned him considerable perplexity.

When I came to the cradle song, which I managed to bring in successfully, Bertram fairly [illegible] at me in amazement. My nerves were sorely tried but I poured out my whole heart in the song, and as I gradually drew near and bent down over Bertram, slowly [illegible] my head I saw the big tears rolling down his cheeks. Then I knew I [illegible] and felt [illegible] to go through the piece.

After the play was over and I had gone to my room quivering with excitement the call boy rapped at my door, saying, Miss Cushman, Mr Braham wishes to speak with you. I [illegible] to reprove me for my inadequate acting. As I went to the door, I framed in words the excuse that as I had not enjoyed the advantage of a rehearsal it could not be expected that I should [illegible] the part. But Mr. Braham met me with extended hand, saying, 'Miss Cushman, I have come to thank you for a genuine gratification. If you had played Meg Merrilies in London as you have played it here to-night, your fortune would be made.'

"And were you not [illegible]—" [illegible] repeated," was the inquiry of Miss Cushman.

Oh, no, certainly not. I had but done my duty in the place where I was put, and I continued two years a [illegible] walking lady at the Park Theater with a salary of $20 a week, and only two-thirds of that when the business was poor."

"DIE WITH MY BACK TO THE FOE"

A single shot, followed by a loud shriek, told us that one of my best men (Bradley) was hurt. He proclaimed his agony with loud voice, turned over on his back, and commenced kicking so vigorously that the surgeon had difficulty in getting near him.

"Poor fellow," said the doctor, as he saw a whitish liquid oozing out, "shot in the bladder. I'm afraid it's fatal."

And he commenced opening his coat.

"Oh, my God!" said Bradley. "I'm a dead man."

"Keep up your spirits, my boy, never say die," said Captain Johnson, kneeling kindly over him.

"Doctor," said the wounded soldier, feebly, "will you write to my mother and tell her that I died bravely doing my duty with my face to the foe and that I thought of her when dying?"

"Yes," said the Doctor with dim eyes and a husky voice, "I will write to her and tell her too."

But suddenly springing to his feet with an indignant voice, said:

"Why confound it man, you're not hurt a bit. It's only your canteen that's shot and that's the water from it. Get up, will you!"

Bradley raised himself up slowly, felt himself all over, and with an exceedingly foolish countenance crawled back to his position amid the uproarious laughter of the whole regiment.

For months after that, on the march or in camp and sometimes in the stillness of the night you would hear a voice in some direction demanding:

"What shall I tell your mother?" and perhaps half a dozen responses would be heard: "Tell her I died with my face to the foe," and then Bradley would come out and hunt for the man that said it.

He seldom found him, but when he did there was certain to be a fight.—Louisville Courier-Journal

TREASURER SPINNER'S REPORT.—A Washington dispatch of November 4 says: Treasurer Spinner, in his thirteenth annual report says the falling off in receipts for the past year from customs amount to $28,280,764 and from internal revenue $10,912,784, while the expenditures are largely in excess of previous years. The Treasurer descants on the monetary troubles and favors as a remedy the issue of considerable legal tenders.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average 12s 10d a 12s 8d, club 13s 2d [illegible].

The tendency of the [illegible] is greater [illegible] the Wheat crop of the interior, and the supply [illegible] is now [illegible]. The receipts of coin from outside sources are apparently diminishing [illegible] will be needed [illegible] other departments of trade [illegible] will [illegible] to make [illegible] banks and [illegible] prudently [illegible] fair resources and working to keep their capital within short call.

Our dispatches for a day or two past have indicated the [illegible] in the Eastern money markets of a very extensively felt sense of approaching danger and we should not be at all surprised should a few days bring us intelligence of the occurrence on the other side of the Atlantic of scenes nearly similar to those experienced recently in the Eastern [illegible] of our own country. It would rather be astonishing should the financial shock through which the United States has just passed, not be felt throughout the entire civilized commercial world.

In casting up the causes of the late panic the amount of debt which our people are carrying [illegible] considered. [illegible] According to the census of 1870 and [illegible] the present indebtedness of the country is as follows: State, $352,866,698; county, $187,565,540; city and town, $328,244,520; railroad $1,[illegible]; total [illegible]. At six per cent the interest on this amount is $112,[illegible]. If we add the national debt, now $2,[illegible], the total indebtedness becomes $4,[illegible] and the interest amounts to $[illegible] per annum. This interest item is about two per cent of the assessed value of all property in 1870 which was $14,178,000,000. Is it not about time to put on the brakes?

Wheat and Tonnage.

The very fair number of sea going vessels now in our port, as a matter of course, gives rise to some considerable inquiry as to the probability of increased activity in the Wheat market. We now have in port the following vessels to load Wheat and Flour for Europe: The Eskdale carrying about 1,70 tons, Disco 1,?00, Mariano ?00, Santa Rosa 1,000, Fiefshire 1,000, Vesta 1,?00, Elektra 1,300—a total of 8,?00 tons. Besides the brig Orient and the schooners Laurel, Peacock and Hera are receiving cargoes of produce, partly Wheat, for San Francisco. Of course these vessels are rapidly lessening the stocks in hand here, but at the same time the receipts of large lots heretofore purchased are fast filling the warehouses which are being emptied, the aggregate of receipts within the past ten days being near 5,000 tons. We learn that but few large transactions are taking place, owing to a disposition on the part of holders to demand more than buyers wants yet compel them to offer. Exporters claim that they can fill their engagements for the next 30 days without any more than they now have. In the meantime we hear of some speculation going on and are informed that some 40,000 bushels were purchased at Harrisburg a few days ago at a figure that is equivalent to $2 11 per cental, delivered here in sacks. The quotations furnished here however are not so high being generally $1 90 a $1 95. We doubt if these rates are advanced materially for some time at most not until the present supply is more nearly exhausted and the arrival of ships to load or demand demurrage forces the market up temporarily.

[illegible]

A private circular under date of Manchester, October [illegible], says: The shipments last week of Pig Iron amounted to 15,492 tons and are in excess of the same period of last year, when they were returned at 12,[illegible] tons. It is perhaps worth noticing [illegible] this the first occasion upon which this has taken place since the week ending 18th of January last.

The San Francisco Mint was engaged during the last week in this month in coining dimes, turning out about $30,000. The Mint is now coining half dollars.

The tonnage movement of San Francisco for October comprised [illegible] 300 arrivals [illegible] 199,000 tons of tonnage, against 299 arrivals of 122,000 tons and 76 clearances of 11,200 tons for the same month last year, and 378 arrivals of 111,000 tons and 89 clearances of 77,[illegible]00 tons for the same month in 1871.

The five National Gold Note Banks in the State of California have a combined capital of $3,200,000.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with the general Banking business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT this Banking Association has in view the benefits to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act approved June 3 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system? Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make [illegible] inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of some charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus names to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6d4p
